RAILROAD NEWS FROM ALL POINTS

A Philadelphia Syndicate Pays Penalty Rather Than Take Over Narrow Gauge.

SOUTHERN'S TOURIST TRAIN

Virginia and Carolina Roads Making Large Contracts for Cars and Equipment.

The failure of the Philadelphia syndicate, headed by Mr. Morrell, of the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., to accept the option obtained on the Tidewater and Western Railway, better known as the Farmville and Powhatan narrow gauge, and buy that property for future development, is a source of regret to the people who live along the line. They had hoped that the railroad property would fall into the hands of rich people, who would develop it and make it a line worthy the name.

Mr. Morrell has never explained why he allowed the option to lapse at a cost to him of something like $5,000, but the supposition is that the stringency in the money market caused him to abandon any and all ideas he had of developing Virginia properties. It is also presumed that the antagonistic attitude of Southern legislators and corporation commissions made him think that it was better to pay the penalty of a forfeited option than to go into speculative development scheme that was subject to the whims of queer legislatures.

Be this as it may, the fact remains that Mr. Morrell left the option lapse and the holders of the securities of the little bankrupt road received the penalty, which is perhaps the only dividend they have ever received on their investment in the aforesaid securities. It would have been a good thing if the road itself could have received this $5,000 penalty, for it would have been a good thing if it had been used for the redemption of the bonds and other securities of the road.

However, it is about as broad as it is long, for the road is being operated by the holders of the securities, and they have to foot the bill in the end. It may be that all of the forfeiture will go that way, and may be more.

Special Development Train.

The timetable of the special train under the conduct of Mr. V. V. Richards, of the land and industrial department of the Southern Railway, bearing the party of foreign manufacturers and others on a tour of the section held in connection with the International Cotton Conference at Atlanta in October has been announced as follows: October 3d, New York; October 4th, Washington, D. C.; October 5th, Charlotte, N. C.; October 6th, S. C.; October 7th, 8th and 9th, Atlanta, Ga.; October 10th, Birmingham, Ala.; October 11th, Greenville, Miss.; October 12th, New Orleans, La.; October 13th, Houston, Tex.; October 14th, Galveston, Tex.; October 15th, Texas, Tex.; and Little Rock, Ark.; October 16th, Memphis, Tenn.; and Corinth, Miss.; October 17th, St. Louis, Mo.; October 18th, Chicago, Ill.; October 19th, Toronto, Canada; October 20th, Niagara Falls, and October 21st, return to New York City.

Randolph and Cumberland.

Mr. E. W. Shedd, chairman of the board of directors of the Randolph and Cumberland Railroad, Carthage, N. C., is reported to have purchased the Raleigh and Western Railroad, eight miles long, from Colon to Lenoir, N. C., and which was graded for an extension to Harper's Cross Roads. It is also said that he has purchased the Sumner mine.

The survey for the Statesville Air Line Railway in the western section of North Carolina, which may or may not be a branch of the Southern, has been begun by Chief Engineer R. L. Greenleaf, of Marion, N. C. This line when built will develop splendid water powers.

Five Hundred Cars Ordered. The Virginia Southwestern Railway has just given an order to the Western Steel Car and Foundry Company, of Anniston, Ala., for 500 new freight cars of the very best make.

Big Contract Made. The Virginia Railway, which is building a steel pier at Sewell's Point, near Norfolk, has awarded the contract for the grading work to the McDermott Contracting Company, of Washington. The sum of $45,000 is involved.

AFRAID OF THE BURGLARS. Reports Alarm People, and Many Sleep on Their Arms.

"Do you know that these reports of numerous burglaries in Richmond have frightened the people to the point where they are sleeping on guns in many instances?" said a professional man last night. "It's a fact. I do not mean to say that all are doing this, but it would surprise you to find the number of men who are acting as self-appointed members of the police department without pay."

"When I go into my house these nights, I do not move cautiously. You don't hear of my slipping and drawing in. Not me. I open the door, slam it violently, and make no end of noise while I get my gun out of its hiding place. In the same way, we see that the house is properly secured at night. This epidemic of burglaries may be exaggerated. It may be the work of ordinary sneak thieves, but it has worried them, and they are doing it to see one or two of the real offenders behind the bars of a prison."

NO PROSPECT OF AN ADJOURNMENT

State Board of Education Can't Get Norfolk Board to Terms.

The State Board of Education, through its regularly constituted officers in this city, made an effort yesterday over the long-distance 'phone to reach some amicable adjustment of the trouble between that body and the Norfolk City School Board, but it was altogether unavailing.

It was the purpose of the Department of Education to send a representative to Norfolk to take the matter up with the local school authorities there, but word came back over the 'phone that those in charge at that end didn't think this would do any good. This scheme was therefore abandoned and the state officials were to work on a different line. There may be some developments to-day, but no one is authorized at this time to say what they will be.

The situation is full of interest and it is being eagerly watched by the public.

DESPONDENT, HE COMMITS SUICIDE

W. P. Leach Ended His Life Yesterday by Inhaling Gas.

Said to be grieving over the loss of his wife, who died several months ago as a victim to consumption, William Patrick Leach, a machinist employed at the Richmond Locomotive Works, committed suicide early yesterday morning by inhaling gas in a small bathroom in the house where he boarded. The situation is full of interest and it is being eagerly watched by the public.

Leach came to Richmond from North Carolina five years ago, and had been employed at the Locomotive Works for some time. He was charged with the care of the boiler of the locomotive.

RIOTERS WILL BE PROSECUTED

Both State and Federal Courts to Take Up Cases of Onancock Negroes.

VIRGINIAN WRITES FOR WIFE

Wants a Good, Healthy Woman, Who Will Look Well When She's Dressed Well.

The Onancock situation was quiet yesterday, and neither Governor Swanson nor Adjutant-General Anderson had any information of interest from the seat of trouble. It looks as though the trouble is over, in view of the fact that all the negro leaders involved have surrendered.

Both the State and Federal authorities will proceed against the offenders, but the State will act first.

It is probable that as soon as the State finishes with the prisoners they will be turned over to the Federal authorities at Norfolk to answer to the charge of obstructing the United States mail in transit. Post-Office Inspector Mathews, whose jurisdiction is on the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland, has investigated the matter of showing up the bus in which the mail pouches were sent out from Onancock on the night of the riot, and he has conferred with Assistant United States Attorney Talley with reference to probable prosecution.

The Federal authorities will await action by the State courts and will not take the cases up until the November term of the United States Court at Norfolk. It is probable that Governor Swanson will withdraw the troops from Onancock some time next week.

Hard Busy Day.

The Governor was busy at his desk all day yesterday, but he did not dispense of any matter of awaking importance. He conferred during the day with Superintendent Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., concerning the Norfolk city school desk situation, and he received a number of callers on various other subjects. His Excellency will decide the fate of the Alexandria negro who is charged with criminal assault within the next few days. Though no one is authorized to say what he will do, it is believed by those close to the Governor that no sentence has yet been disclosed which will warrant executive interference with the verdicts of the Circuit and Supreme Courts. Unless there is further action by the Governor the prisoner will hang next Friday.

Won't Stay Execution.

The Governor yesterday refused to interfere in the case of George A. Peters, a white man, of Patrick county, who is to hang on September 20th for the murder of Rev. Joseph Easter, a Dunkard preacher.

Judge Jackson, who sat in the case, has declined to sign the application, and says in a letter to the Governor, "Peters is as worthless a creature as ever cursed a community."

Man Wants Wife.

Commissioner "Kaiser" has received a great many unique requests in connection with his immigration work, but he has one before him now which outstrips all the rest.

A man in a certain section of the State wrote the commissioner to pick him out a wife from among his Scotch immigrants, and the commissioner referred the applicant to his agent in Glasgow, Scotland.

Here is a letter, which was written by the Virginian to the Glasgow agent, and which was sent by the latter to Mr. Kaiser:

"Dear Sir—I write you to know if you can send me a wife I want to Mr. G. W. Kaiser, of Richmond, Va., a short time ago, and in his reply he referred me to you, stating that I might tell you that he referred me to you, as you are his agent."

"I want a good, healthy woman, of medium size, that will look well when dressed well, any about eighteen or twenty-five, and willing to be married."

"Would like for her to have some education, as I might want her to assist me in a store. I have a nice home, and live convenient to church."

Please answer this as soon as possible."

Capital Callers. Mr. B. E. Cogbill, sheriff of Mecklenburg, was among the callers at the Library Building yesterday.

Among the Governor's callers were Patrick McGlother, B. N. Murphy and J. H. Stinson, of Buchanan county.

GORE GOES BACK.

Alleged Embroiderer Returns to Fondale With Sergeant Wren.

Detective-Sergeant Wren left yesterday morning to take John B. Gore to Fondale, Ala., where he is wanted on the charge of embezzlement. Gore has been in the city for some time, waiting for the extradition papers, which came yesterday. Sergeant Wren arrested him, and he was the one to take him back.

While in the employ of the Southern Express Company it is charged that Gore took out the bills, which had been delivered to the express company.

INCENDIARY SENT ON.

Will Adams to Go Before Grand Jury, Charged With Firing Wife's House.

Will Adams (colored), charged with setting fire to his wife's house, was yesterday morning sent on to the grand jury from the Police Court. A charge of disorderly conduct, which also stands against him, was continued until the former charge is tried.

Adams is charged with setting fire to his wife's house for some time and has been living together for some time and had words. Later it is said that he was seen running from the house, and the house just as the fire was observed. When the fire department arrived they found a pile of oil-soaked rags in the kitchen which was partially destroyed.

Meetings for Men and Boys. The character of the meetings that have been conducted at the association building during the summer will be completed to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Captain W. H. Wright will speak on "One of Christ's Captains." Mr. P. C. Hoenniger, a well-known gentleman of one of the most prominent families in the city, will discuss "A Winner of His Own Victory." These discussions will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock.

RICHMOND MINISTER IS HIGHLY HONORED

REV. JOHN HALLOWELL DICKENSON.

John Hallowell Dickenson, whose picture appears above, and who was yesterday elected Imperial Sheik of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan, in the national convention at Colorado Springs, is pastor of the Holy Comfort Church, of this city, and is a most popular citizen. He was born in Portsmouth, Va., and was educated at William and Mary College and the Theological Seminary at Alexandria.

He is a royal viceroy of Bena Mera Temple, D. O. K. K. 133, of this city, and grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Virginia. Upon Mr. Dickenson's return here he will call a meeting of the local temple, and large delegations from Petersburg, Roanoke, Staunton, Fredericksburg and West Point are expected to attend.

RELAYING FLOOR.

Contractor Not Satisfied With Foreman's Work in Engine-House.

Not satisfied with the work done by his foreman in relaying the brick floor in the engine-house on Third Street, Contractor Harry undertook to undo all the work that had been done and start all over again.

Work on the floor the second time has been commenced, and will be finished, it is expected, by the middle of next week. In the meantime the engine and truck wagon are out on the street, sheltered from the weather by awnings stretched above them.

WILL STOP NUISANCE.

Major Werner Says That Police Are Trying to Prevent Rowdiness in Jefferson Park.

Concerning the complaint of people who live in the neighborhood of Jefferson Park that much rowdiness has been going on in the park among a lot of boys, Major Werner said last night that the police are doing their best to stop the nuisance, and that many arrests have been made in the vicinity. The complaints may rest assured that the chief will do all within his power to prevent further nuisance of this kind.

Magnolia Park. All the colored employees of Allen & Ginter factory and their families will be given a picnic to-day at Magnolia Park. Invitations have been issued to employees of the factory also.

The sensational feature of the affair will be a vigorous scramble for 1,000 pennies by a lot of kids. There are several good free attractions that will come off also.

Negro Acrobat. Joe Horton, the greatest negro acrobat in America, is now in Richmond on a short stay on his paying tour. Horton has for some time been abroad, and according to the press clippings from some London papers, he is as clever as ever.

Henrico Affairs; COURT-HOUSE VACANT Candidates and Politicians Doing Stunts Away Out in Rural Districts.

Henrico Court-House was the dull place in the city yesterday. No courts, not even a justice court in the basement, were in session, no suits were instituted, no taxes were being paid in to the treasurer, no prisoners were being offered to the jailer, and no politicians were on hand to shake hands with the sovereigns, and as a matter of fact, no sovereigns were at the Court-House to extend their hands.

All in the Country. The truth of the business is that the handshaking is now being done away out in the rural districts, where the Sunday school picnics are being held, where the watermelon cuttings are being operated, and where the Henrico people are having a good time generally. The candidates and the politicians are where these things are going on, and the court-house knows them not for the immediate present.

Highland Springs High School. The contract for the Highland Springs High School has been awarded and this settles the fact that the better school facilities the people of that neighborhood have been clamoring for will be theirs in a short while. The building will be up-to-date in all particulars, and will cost about $12,000. It will accommodate four or five hundred pupils. Not that many will occupy it at once, but the community is growing, and the time is not far distant when that much room will be needed, and the people are preparing for the future.

Released on Bail. T. J. Mitchell has languished in the Henrico jail for several months on a serious charge, and all the while he has been loudly proclaiming his innocence. Yesterday he succeeded in furnishing bail in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance at the October term of the court, and was released for the time being. His kinsman, Mr. U. M. Mitchell, of Louisa county, furnished the necessary bond.

HAVE NEW MANAGER. Mr. Harry W. Bates Takes Charge of the Albemarle Club.

Mr. Harry W. Bates, formerly of New York, but for the past year a resident of this city, has been elected manager of the Albemarle Club, and has taken charge of that position. Mr. Bates has made a great many friends since he decided to make Richmond his home, and he is proving a most popular manager of the club, of which he is now the official head.

He is a man of fine manners, and makes friends easily among those with whom he is thrown. Mr. Bates is being congratulated upon deciding to make his home in Richmond.

STOLE JEWELRY. Charles Taylor, Charged With Stealing Diamond Ring and Pin.

Charles Taylor, colored, was arrested yesterday evening by Captain Tomlinson and Detective-Sergeant Whitehead on a warrant charging him with feloniously entering the residence of Robert N. Donald, No. 700 East Marshall Street, and stealing therefrom a diamond ring, a diamond pin and a gold watch. Taylor was taken to the Second Police Station and locked up without bail.

POST A TO-NIGHT. Travelers' Protective Association to Hold Regular Meeting.

There will be a regular meeting of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association, in the rooms of the association, No. 301 East Main Street, at 8:30 o'clock to-night. So far as is known only routine work will come before the body.

SERVE WARRANT IN JAIL. Richard Holmes Charged With House-breaking.

Richard Holmes (colored), now serving a term in jail, was yesterday served with a warrant, charging him with entering the residence of Dr. D. A. Ferguson, No. 107 East Cary Street, and having there two small savings banks and their contents and a lever Johnson pistol. The theft took place about two weeks ago.

WILLIAM HARRIS AWAITING DEATH In City Jail Charged With Attempted Criminal Assault.

With death by hanging staring him in the face, William Harris, the negro who is charged with attempted criminal assault on Miss Lena Rowland, at Chester, Chesterfield county, on Wednesday morning, sits lonely in his cell in the city jail, quietly awaiting the certainty of an early execution at the hands of the law. Ignorant though he is, and possessed apparently only of the instincts of brute nature, Harris seems to recognize, notwithstanding the enormity of the crime with which he is charged, and that death is the only circumstance of certainly which faces him. He does not appear to think; he only sits and waits, his eyes roving about him restlessly, like those of an animal hunted, knowing that its pursuers will soon be upon him—that escape is hopeless.

Admits His Crime. Harris admits his crime. He doesn't know why he did it; he knows only that it is done, and that there will be no forgiveness for him in this world. So he sits, quiet, waiting, watching, thinking of a certain day when he must die.

Harris was brought yesterday morning to this city from Alexandria, where he was captured early Thursday morning, and locked in the city jail for safekeeping. A lynching would in all likelihood have taken place if he were taken back to Chester.

Commonwealth's Attorney Gregory, of Chesterfield county, who was in the city yesterday morning, stated that the court would hold no special session for the trial of Harris. The regular term of court will be the second Monday in September, and Harris will be kept here until that time.

LOOKING FOR FRUIT. Englishmen Visiting Virginia Orchards Under Chaperonage of C. E. Snyder.

Mr. C. E. Snyder, whose office and apple warehouse are on Cary Street, will leave the city this morning with a delegation of fruit eaters from London and England to visit the apple orchards of Albemarle county.

Mr. Snyder has done more perhaps than any other man in Virginia to get apples introduced in foreign markets, but he is not stopping at the mere introduction. The present pilgrimage to the Albemarle orchards will doubtless result in larger shipments this fall to England than ever before.

Virginia Lumber for Far North. Ships that pass in the night, and in the day, too, sometimes get up the James River to Richmond. The times was when they came here from all quarters of the earth, but in later years they have been stopping nearer to the ocean, and railroads have been taking freight to them. Yesterday, however, a British schooner, the Advent, cleared from this port with a cargo of lumber for America, Nova Scotia, Virginia timber is in demand all over the world, and its scarcity makes it bring the biggest prices ever before known since the settlement of Jamestown.

Business Men's Club. In a very short while the Business Men's Club will have its quarters on the upper floor of the Bank of Richmond Building in readiness for occupancy. This Club, which is new to Richmond, but similar clubs have proven to be powerful factors in the development and advancement of the commercial interests of other cities, and it one can be allowed to judge by the personnel of an institution it is fair to presume that the newly-organized Business Men's Club of Richmond will be a wonderful power for good in this city.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas's $3.50 shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other $3.50 shoe.
